

Name _____

Modern Art: Definition, Characteristics, Style, Examples, and Facts

Short Answer Key

1. Example Answer: One characteristic of Modern Art is the rejection of realistic representation in favor of abstract and subjective forms of expression.
2. Example Answer: Cubism is an art movement associated with Modern Art. It is known for deconstructing objects into geometric shapes and multiple perspectives.
3. Example Answer: "The Persistence of Memory" by Salvador Dalí is significant for its surreal and dreamlike portrayal of melting clocks, which challenges conventional notions of time and reality.
4. Example Answer: Advancements in technology, like photography, influenced Modern Art by encouraging artists to explore new ways of depicting reality and abstraction. Artists were inspired to break away from traditional representation.
5. Example Answer: Modern Art continues to influence contemporary art by inspiring artists to experiment with new forms, styles, and concepts, and by challenging them to think outside the box.

