

Name _____

Mom's Not Home

Multiple Choice Questions

1. Why is the absence of the mother important to the story?
  - a) It allows the Cat to enter the house and cause chaos.
  - b) It makes the children feel safe and happy.
  - c) It helps the Fish have more control over the house.
  - d) It gives the children more time to do their homework.

2. What is the main conflict in the story?
  - a) The Cat wants to leave, but the children ask him to stay.
  - b) The children must decide whether to stop the Cat or join in the fun.
  - c) Thing 1 and Thing 2 refuse to play with the Cat.
  - d) The Fish and the Cat work together to clean the house.

3. How does the Fish contribute to the story's tension?
  - a) The Fish encourages the children to break rules.
  - b) The Fish reminds the children that their mother will not be happy.
  - c) The Fish tries to make the Cat's tricks even bigger.
  - d) The Fish leaves the house to find the mother.

4. What lesson do the children learn by the end of the story?
  - a) It's okay to break rules as long as you don't get caught.
  - b) It's important to have fun and never worry about consequences.
  - c) Even without an adult present, they should think about responsibility.
  - d) They should always do what the Cat tells them to do.

5. How does the story resolve the conflict?
  - a) The children clean up the house before their mother arrives.
  - b) Thing 1 and Thing 2 stay to help fix the house.
  - c) The Fish tells the mother everything that happened.
  - d) The Cat uses a machine to clean up the mess before their mother comes home.

