

Name _____

Mystery at the Museum

Short Answer Key

1. Amelia Brightwing was a famous aviator known for being the first person to fly solo around the world. She was famous for her adventurous spirit and pioneering flight.
2. The mysterious note left by the thief said, "Finders, keepers!" This implied that the thief intended to keep the stolen artifact and challenged anyone to try to take it back.
3. Answers may vary but should include steps like examining the note, looking for clues, following the trail, and working together.
4. The young detectives found hidden passageways and secret compartments in the museum, which added excitement to their adventure. They likely felt a sense of mystery and curiosity.
5. Answers may vary, but students might find the discovery of hidden passageways and secret compartments to be the most exciting part, as it added an element of mystery and adventure to their visit to the museum.

