Musical Adventure

Open-Ended Response Answer Key

1. The narrator likely feels determined and optimistic about their journey through the darkness because they are seeking light and new experiences. The darkness represents challenges and uncertainty, but the narrator is eager to overcome them.
2. The moon and stars are often associated with beauty and inspiration. Describing them as telling a tale of love and hope reinforces the idea that even in the darkest times, there is still love and hope to be found.
3. In the context of the poem, "life is a highway" suggests that life is a journey full of opportunities and adventures. It encourages embracing the ride and making the most of it.
4. The narrator's attitude evolves from seeking light and exploring possibilities in the darkness to feeling on top of the world and ready to fly. Examples include phrases like "I'm on top of the world" and "I'll spread my wings and learn how to fly," which demonstrate a growing sense of confidence and optimism.
