

Name _____

Pen Pals from Outer Space

One bright and starry night, as Timmy and Emily were stargazing from their backyard, something extraordinary happened. A small spaceship, glowing with a rainbow of colors, landed softly on their lawn. Out of it emerged two friendly aliens named Zog and Lila.

The aliens had traveled from the distant planet Glitteron, and they came in peace. Timmy and Emily, filled with excitement and curiosity, greeted the visitors with wide smiles. The aliens communicated through a special device that translated their language into English.

Zog and Lila told the children about their planet, which was filled with sparkling lakes, fluffy clouds made of candy floss, and trees that changed colors with the music of the wind. It sounded like a magical place.

The kids and the aliens quickly became friends. They exchanged letters and drawings, sharing stories of their lives and adventures. Zog and Lila sent pictures of their planet, and Timmy and Emily showed them their school, their pets, and their favorite books.

As they exchanged letters, Timmy and Emily learned about Glitteron's fascinating customs. For instance, on Glitteron, instead of saying "hello," they greeted each other by dancing with colorful scarves. Timmy and Emily decided to try it out and found it to be lots of fun.

One day, Zog and Lila invited Timmy and Emily to visit Glitteron. They explained that their spaceship could make the journey in an instant. Excitement bubbled within Timmy and Emily as they packed their bags and waved goodbye to their family and friends.

Their adventure to Glitteron was filled with wonder. They danced with the Glitteronians, tasted the delicious candy floss clouds, and even learned to play music with the wind. Timmy and Emily felt like they were in a dream, and they couldn't wait to share their magical experiences in their next letters.

