

Name _____

Journey through Time: Exploring Petra's Hidden City

Open-Ended Response Answer Key

1. Petra is often called the "Rose City" because of the beautiful hues of the rocks, which have a rosy, reddish color.
2. Answers may vary, but students can choose a building based on its appearance or historical significance.
3. Carving Petra into the cliffs would have been a challenging and labor-intensive process, requiring great skill and determination.
4. It's important to preserve and protect archaeological sites like Petra because they provide valuable insights into the history and culture of ancient civilizations. Conservation ensures that future generations can learn from and enjoy these remarkable places.

