Terry Gross: The Voice of Great Conversations

Open-Ended Response Answer Key

1. Asking good questions helps people share their thoughts and stories, making conversations more interesting.
2. I would ask her what her favorite interview was because I want to know which guest had the best story.
3. She was curious, hardworking, and good at making people feel comfortable during interviews.
4. Yes, because podcasts and radio allow people to learn in a fun and easy way, or No, because some people prefer reading books or watching videos.
