

Name _____

The Influence of Political Parties on Public Opinion and Policy Decisions

Short Answer

1. Explain how political parties frame the political discourse and why it matters.
2. Describe the role of political parties in shaping legislative agendas and advancing policy changes.
3. Provide an example of how political parties respond to public pressure and changing societal needs.
4. How do political parties build coalitions and reach consensus in systems with multiple parties?
5. Explain why political parties are considered important channels for citizens to express their political preferences.

