The Mysterious Prankster Vanishings

Short Answer Key

1. The mission of the Prankster Detective Club was to uncover the identity of the prankster thief behind the disappearing pranks and put an end to the pranks vanishing act. The founding members were Mark, Sarah, Kevin, and a few others.
2. The club members followed a series of mysterious footprints that looked like giant clown shoes near the scenes of the disappearing pranks. This clue led them to suspect Mr. Jenkins, the janitor.
3. The unexpected culprit behind the disappearing pranks was Mr. Jenkins, the school's janitor. He was motivated by his inability to resist reliving his mischievous youth and wanted to keep the pranks for himself.
4. The Prankster Detective Club convinced Mr. Jenkins to return the stolen pranks by explaining that pranks were meant to be shared and enjoyed by all, and that keeping them for himself wasn't fair. Mr. Jenkins agreed to return the pranks.
5. After the pranks were returned, the school became filled with laughter, and the students celebrated the end of the mystery. The lesson learned was that sometimes, the most unexpected individuals could surprise you with their mischievous side, and that pranks were meant to be shared and enjoyed with others.
