

Name _____

The Presidential Showdown

Short Answer Key

1. Senator Emily Harrison's main campaign priorities were social justice, equality, and addressing issues like income inequality and climate change.
2. Governor Richard Anderson's main campaign priorities were pro-business policies, economic growth, and national security.
3. The major point of contention during the healthcare reform debate was whether healthcare should be a right or a privilege.
4. The leaked emails scandal further divided the electorate and led to accusations of corruption and dishonesty.
5. The winner of the election was Senator Emily Harrison.

