The Dreamcatcher's Promise

Short Answer Key

1. Elara, the Dreamcatcher, had the ability to capture dreams and turn them into reality. She approached Ava because she noticed that Ava's dreams were full of wonder, kindness, and the desire to make the world a better place. Elara believed that Ava's dreams had the potential to bring joy and happiness to the village, which is why she offered to teach Ava dream weaving.
2. Ava had to promise Elara that she would only use her dreams to make the world a better place, spreading kindness and joy. This promise was significant because it guided Ava's actions and ensured that her dreams would always be used for the benefit of others.
3. Ava's dreams had a profound impact on the village, bringing joy, happiness, and kindness to the community. The dreams transformed the village into a happier and more vibrant place, fostering a culture of selflessness and compassion among the villagers.
4. The traveler asked Ava to fulfill a selfish dream, but Ava refused, explaining that her dreams were meant to spread happiness and kindness. The traveler's intentions changed as he realized that Ava's dreams would only respond to pure intentions and selflessness. He began performing acts of kindness for the villagers, and the protective barrier dissolved.
