

Name _____

What Does a Rabbit Eat?

Short Answer Key

1. A herbivore is an animal that only eats plants and does not eat meat.
2. Wild rabbits like to eat grass and clover, as well as roots and bulbs.
3. Pet rabbits need hay because it keeps their teeth short and helps with digestion.
4. Rabbits use their sharp teeth to chew through tough plants and stems.
5. A cecotrope is a soft dropping that rabbits eat to digest their food again and get extra nutrients.

