

Name _____

The Race to Mars

Short Answer Questions Answers

1. Dr. Phineas Quirk's spacecraft had a unique design shaped like a giant rubber duck.
2. Sandra Steele's approach involved a sleek and efficient rocket design, while Dr. Quirk's approach was eccentric with the rubber duck spacecraft.
3. Dr. Quirk's rubber duck spacecraft got stuck in a cosmic bubble bath, causing a delay in the race.
4. The race to Mars symbolizes the spirit of competition and innovation in space exploration, showcasing the creativity and determination of scientists and engineers.
5. Dr. Quirk's vow to return to Mars in a more conventional spacecraft suggests the potential for future space adventures and underscores the importance of persistence in scientific endeavors.

