

Name _____

The Haunting of Ravenwood Manor

Open-Ended Response Answer Key

1. Eleanor's motivation to visit Ravenwood Manor might have been a combination of curiosity, a desire for adventure, and a sense of duty to uncover the mysteries surrounding the manor.
2. The description of Ravenwood Manor as a gloomy and desolate place veiled in mystery and sorrow sets a foreboding atmosphere. The mansion's appearance, including its dark, empty windows, adds to the sense of horror and suspense.
3. The story conveys that love can be both a source of tragedy and redemption. It emphasizes the idea that selfless acts of love have the power to break curses and provide peace to tormented souls.
4. Eleanor's experiences might deepen her belief in the supernatural and the potential for redemption. She has witnessed the effects of curses and the possibility of breaking them through selfless acts of love, which could alter her perspective on such matters.

