

Name _____

Do Leopards Form Relationships with Other Species?

Multiple Choice Questions

1. What type of relationship involves both species benefiting?
 - a. Parasitism
 - b. Predation
 - c. Commensalism
 - d. Mutualism

2. Which animal might benefit from a leopard's leftover food?
 - a. Elephant
 - b. Vulture
 - c. Cheetah
 - d. Zebra

3. What is an example of parasitism for leopards?
 - a. Sharing food with vultures
 - b. Ticks feeding on a leopard's blood
 - c. Hunting for prey
 - d. Living alone

4. How do leopards help balance their ecosystem?
 - a. By planting trees
 - b. By swimming across rivers
 - c. By controlling animal populations
 - d. By making loud noises

5. Which small animal might follow a leopard for leftover food?
 - a. Jackal
 - b. Giraffe
 - c. Crocodile
 - d. Rhinoceros

