

Name _____

Does a Panda Form Relationships with Other Species?

Multiple Choice Questions

1. What type of relationship exists between pandas and bamboo forests?
  - a) Commensalism
  - b) Mutualism
  - c) Parasitism
  - d) Competition

2. How do pandas help bamboo forests grow?
  - a) By planting bamboo seeds
  - b) By trimming bamboo leaves
  - c) By watering bamboo plants
  - d) By spreading bamboo seeds through their waste

3. What do small animals like insects and birds gain from pandas?
  - a) Food and shelter from bamboo scraps
  - b) Protection from predators
  - c) Fresh bamboo leaves
  - d) A place to live on the panda's fur

4. What is an example of a parasitic relationship involving pandas?
  - a) Pandas eating bamboo
  - b) Ticks and fleas living on pandas' fur
  - c) Birds living in bamboo forests
  - d) Pandas breaking bamboo stalks

5. Why are pandas important to their ecosystem?
  - a) They chase away predators.
  - b) They protect other animals.
  - c) They help maintain the health of bamboo forests.
  - d) They guard bamboo seeds.

