

Name _____

Repeating Struggle

Multiple Choice Questions

1. What effect does repetition have in The Little Red Hen?
 - a) It makes the story more confusing.
 - b) It helps emphasize the Hen's struggle.
 - c) It makes the other animals seem more helpful.
 - d) It makes the story shorter.

2. What phrase do the animals repeat throughout the story?
 - a) "I will help!"
 - b) "Maybe later."
 - c) "Not I."
 - d) "This is too hard."

3. Why does the Hen keep asking the same question?
 - a) She does not know how to make bread.
 - b) She enjoys asking questions.
 - c) She does not want to do the work.
 - d) She hopes the animals will change their minds.

4. How does the repeated refusal of the animals affect the story?
 - a) It makes the ending predictable.
 - b) It shows that the animals are hardworking.
 - c) It makes the story less interesting.
 - d) It changes the moral of the story.

5. What is the main lesson of The Little Red Hen?
 - a) Hard work and responsibility lead to rewards.
 - b) It is okay to let others do all the work.
 - c) Sharing is the most important thing.
 - d) Baking bread is fun and easy.

