

Name _____

Unveiling the Electric Excitement: Resale Value of Electric Vehicles

Multiple Choice Questions

1. Why do electric vehicles often have a high resale value?
 - a) They have more moving parts, making them durable.
 - b) They run on expensive gasoline, increasing their worth.
 - c) They offer lower operating costs and maintenance savings.
 - d) They emit more tailpipe emissions, attracting buyers.

2. What does "resale value" refer to?
 - a) The price of a new car.
 - b) The amount of money you can get when selling your vehicle.
 - c) The value of a car when it's brand new.
 - d) The cost of maintaining a car.

3. How does the simplicity of electric vehicles impact their resale value?
 - a) It increases maintenance costs.
 - b) It makes them less appealing to buyers.
 - c) It results in higher resale value due to lower maintenance costs.
 - d) It has no effect on resale value.

4. What is a factor that can affect the resale value of electric vehicles?
 - a) Government incentives
 - b) Tire size
 - c) The color of the car
 - d) The number of seats

5. Why do some governments offer incentives for electric vehicles?
 - a) To discourage people from buying EVs
 - b) To increase gasoline consumption
 - c) To promote eco-conscious transportation
 - d) To make EVs more expensive

