Revolution's Impact

Open-Ended Response Answer Key

1. People feared a strong government because they had just fought against Britain's unfair rule.
2. If the Anti-Federalists had won, states might have had more power and the national government would be weaker.
3. Answers will vary. (Example: I would be an Anti-Federalist because I believe in protecting people's rights and freedoms.)
4. Today, people debate issues like how much power the president should have and what rights should be protected.
