Threats and Dangers Faced by Rhinoceroses

Open-Ended Response Answer Key

1. Rhino horns are highly valued because of myths that they have healing powers, even though science shows they don't.
2. If poaching is not stopped, rhino populations could decline to the point of extinction.
3. Mud baths help rhinos stay cool, repel insects, and prevent skin infections.
4. I would set up more protected reserves, use technology to track and stop poachers, and educate people about the importance of saving rhinos.
