Scrooge's New Connections

Short Answer Key

1. Scrooge treats Fred coldly, refusing to join his Christmas celebrations and dismissing his cheerful invitations.
2. Scrooge remembers his loving sister, Fan, and the joyful parties hosted by Mr. Fezziwig, which make him realize how much he valued relationships in the past.
3. The Cratchit family's love and gratitude, even in hardship, show Scrooge the importance of kindness and make him want to help others, especially Tiny Tim.
4. Scrooge learns from the Ghost of Christmas Present that people like the Cratchits and Fred find happiness in love and connection, even without wealth.
5. By the end of the story, Scrooge raises Bob's salary, becomes like a second father to Tiny Tim, donates to charity, and joins Fred's Christmas celebrations.
