

Name _____

Baseball Sign Language: Cracking the Code of Coaches and Players

Multiple Choice Questions

1. What is the purpose of Baseball Sign Language?
 - a) To make the game more entertaining for the fans.
 - b) To allow coaches and players to communicate silently during the game.
 - c) To confuse the opposing team's fans.
 - d) To signal the start and end of the game.

2. Who uses Baseball Sign Language during a game?
 - a) Only the coaches.
 - b) Only the players.
 - c) Both coaches and players.
 - d) The umpires.

3. What role does the third base coach play in using Baseball Sign Language?
 - a) They communicate with the outfielders.
 - b) They signal the pitcher.
 - c) They relay signals to the batter and the player on third base.
 - d) They keep score of the game.

4. How do coaches and players keep their sign language secret?
 - a) By speaking quietly.
 - b) By using hand signals and codes that change frequently.
 - c) By using megaphones.
 - d) By writing messages on the baseballs.

5. What is "sign stealing" in baseball?
 - a) The act of stealing bases.
 - b) The act of stealing signs from the opposing team to gain an advantage.
 - c) The act of stealing the baseball.
 - d) The act of stealing home runs.

