Whistler's Silent Portrait

In Whistler's canvas, a mother sits,
With quiet dignity, her presence fits,
A study in silence, introspection profound,
In this painting's depths, her thoughts are found.
With eyes downcast, in shades of gray,
She contemplates life in her own way,
No need for words, her wisdom shows,
In her quiet world, serenity flows.
A timeless moment, captured in art,
A mother's love, a work of the heart,
In every brushstroke, a story unfolds,
In Whistler's silent portrait, her tale is told.
