Skatepark Etiquette: Enjoying the Ride with Respect

Short Answer Key

1. Skateboarders can help keep a skatepark clean by picking up trash and disposing of it in designated bins.
2. Skateboarders can be considerate of noise levels by avoiding loud tricks, using quieter areas, and respecting quiet hours, especially in residential areas.
3. Skateboarders should be patient with beginners because everyone was a beginner once, and offering support and encouragement helps create a positive skateboarding community and allows newcomers to improve their skills.
4. Skateboarders should familiarize themselves with the rules and regulations of the specific skatepark and follow them. This ensures they skate within the boundaries of the law and etiquette and respect the facility and its users.
