

Name _____

Society's Secrets

Short Answer Key

1. Satire uses humor and exaggeration to point out problems in society.
2. The Grangerfords say they are religious and kind, but they continue a violent feud.
3. The King and the Duke represent dishonest people who trick others for money.
4. Huck sees that Jim is kind and that the rules about slavery are unfair.
5. Twain uses satire to show how people often follow unfair rules without thinking.

