Love's Rollercoaster: A Sonnet of Emotions

In love, we ride a rollercoaster high,
With ups and downs that make our spirits sigh.
We start with butterflies and hearts aflutter,
As love's sweet song begins to softly mutter.
But soon enough, the ride takes steep descents,
When arguments and doubts become our vents.
We plummet into turmoil and despair,
Yet hope remains, for love is always there.
The twists and turns, the laughter and the tears,
In love's wild ride, we face our inner fears.
For every low, there comes a soaring high,
As love's rollercoaster takes us to the sky.
Through all the emotions that love imparts,
We find the joy that's hidden in our hearts.
