The Girl Who Spoke to Animals

Short Answer Key

1. Emma encountered distressed squirrels who had their acorn storage raided by a raccoon. She offered to help by speaking to the raccoon and finding a compromise to return the stolen acorns.
2. The raccoon's name was Rocky, and he stole the acorns out of desperation because he couldn't find any food. Emma and Rocky reached a compromise where she would help him find food, and he would return the acorns to the squirrels.
3. Another problem Emma helped with was mediating disputes between rival bird families. She listened to their concerns and helped them find common ground, ensuring peace in the forest.
4. Word of Emma's gift spread throughout the village as animals sought her help to solve their problems, creating a harmonious coexistence between humans and animals.
5. Emma's ability to communicate with animals benefited the village by maintaining a peaceful balance in the forest, resolving conflicts, and ensuring the well-being of the creatures that shared their environment.
