

Name _____

Streamtopia

Short Answer Questions Answers

1. Mayor Maestro Melody's unique habit involves conducting imaginary orchestras while walking his pet goldfish, Beethoven. This contributes to the story's humor by showcasing his eccentricity and setting a whimsical tone for Streamtopia.
2. "Fishify" is a music streaming service created for fish. The fish in Streamtopia react by synchronizing their movements with the music, performing choreographed dances underwater.
3. Tourists and visitors respond with amazement and marvel at the fish performances in Streamtopia, leading to a significant influx of visitors to the town, making it the town's main attraction.
4. The chaos in the music industry is caused by Fishify, as musicians attempt to compose fish-approved tunes. They create a cacophony of underwater concerts featuring unconventional music styles to appeal to fish.
5. In my opinion, the story conveys that music streaming can have unexpected and comical impacts on the music industry. It uses humor to emphasize that music is universal and can transcend boundaries, even reaching fish. The story suggests that music has the power to bring joy to unexpected places and that the adaptability of musicians is essential in the ever-evolving music landscape.

