The Mystery at Chocolateville: A Sweet Investigation

Open-Ended Response Answer Key

1. Possible answer: The noise sounded like giggles and laughter, which was strange because the factory was supposed to be closed on weekends.
2. Possible answer: The kids found chocolate sculptures of animals coming to life, such as a tap-dancing elephant, a roaring lion, and a swinging monkey.
3. Possible answer: The kids were surprised and curious about the new chocolate flavors, like strawberry and caramel swirl.
4. Possible answer: The kids put their heads together and reversed the chocolate flavoring process, restoring everything to normal and helping Mr. Wonka.
