The Tattoo Tango

Open-Ended Response Answer Key

1. Lily's impulsive decision to get a tattoo of Tom's name after only a week of dating may reflect her desire for a deep and lasting connection. It suggests that she might be someone who wears her heart on her sleeve, but it also shows her impetuous nature.
2. Lily's attempts to remove the tattoo added humor and farcical elements to the story by presenting exaggerated and unconventional methods. This reflects the nature of farce in literature, where absurd situations and comedic elements contribute to the story's humor.
3. The moral of the story might be that impulsive decisions can lead to unexpected and humorous situations, but creative solutions can arise from them. Lily's journey from impulsive decision to resolution reflects the idea that embracing unconventional solutions and finding humor in adversity can lead to positive outcomes.
4. Lily's experience with the tattoo changed her outlook on life and relationships by teaching her not to take herself too seriously and to embrace the unexpected. She adapted to the unexpected turn of events by finding a creative solution and learning to laugh at her impulsive decision.
