

Name _____

The Teacher's Secret Identity

Short Answer Questions Answers

1. Mr. Johnson's superhero outfit consisted of a spandex suit adorned with punctuation marks. It reflected his secret identity as Captain Grammar because it emphasized his mission of promoting proper grammar and literacy.
2. The graffiti artist, Timmy, was vandalizing buildings with graffiti that contained terrible grammar and spelling mistakes.
3. Captain Grammar confronted Timmy with his giant red pen, and a battle of wits and spelling ensued. The outcome was that Timmy surrendered, and the police arrived to take him into custody.
4. The town hailed Captain Grammar as a hero, and Mr. Johnson returned to his role as the beloved English teacher. The story does not provide specific details about what he did after the battle with Timmy.
5. Answers may vary, but students can discuss possible motivations such as a passion for proper grammar, a desire to make a positive impact on the community, or a sense of responsibility to correct language errors.

