

Name _____

Linus Torvalds: The Creator of Linux

Open-Ended Response Answer Key

1. Linux became popular because it was free, and programmers could improve it together, making it better over time.
2. We can learn that one person with a great idea can change the world, and sharing knowledge helps technology grow.
3. I would ask him what inspired him to create Linux because his invention changed the world.
4. Open-source software helps people by giving them access to free technology, allowing them to learn, build, and improve their communities.

