

Name _____

Teleport Anywhere

Short Answer Questions Answers

1. The protagonist first teleported the TV remote control. They reacted with amazement and excitement as they realized they had the power to control objects with their mind.
2. After successfully teleporting objects, the protagonist teleported themselves to a bustling New York City street.
3. The protagonist encountered challenges when trying to teleport back home, including being stuck in a Japanese sushi restaurant during dinner time. They felt embarrassed and struggled to communicate.
4. By the end of the day, the protagonist felt exhausted but exhilarated with their newfound teleportation ability. They looked forward to more adventures and experiences.
5. The theme of responsibility in the story is highlighted as the protagonist realizes that their newfound power comes with challenges and humorous consequences, such as getting stuck in unexpected places like a sushi restaurant.

