Volleyball Vibes: A Beginner's Guide to Volleyball Terminology

Open-Ended Response Answer Key

1. A serve is the first hit to start the game, while a spike is a powerful hit over the net into the opponent's court during a rally. A serve initiates play, while a spike is an offensive attack to score a point.
2. Rotation is important in volleyball because it ensures that each player takes their turn in all positions on the court. It helps balance the team and allows players to contribute to both offense and defense.
3. A good libero should have excellent defensive skills, agility, and quick reflexes. They are important to the team because they specialize in saving difficult balls and helping to maintain rallies.
4. Effective communication among team members is crucial in volleyball to coordinate plays, call for the ball, and provide support. It helps prevent miscommunication and leads to better teamwork and performance on the court.
