Meerkat Predators and Threats

Open-Ended Response Answer Key

1. Teamwork is important because it allows meerkats to warn each other and fight off predators as a group.
2. Standing watch helps protect the group by spotting danger early and giving a warning call.
3. If food and water become scarce due to drought, meerkats may struggle to survive.
4. As a meerkat, I would help my group by standing watch, alerting others to danger, and working together to scare off predators.
