Timeless Tune

Open-Ended Response Answer Key

1. Some songs last for generations because they have catchy melodies, simple lyrics, and meaningful lessons that people continue to enjoy.
2. Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star is another song that has been passed down. People still sing it because it has an easy melody and teaches about stars.
3. I would add a verse where the ants share food to show kindness and cooperation.
4. Music makes learning fun because it involves movement and repetition, making information easier to remember than just reading or listening to a lesson.
