

Name _____

The Wheels of Change: How Transportation Systems Shape Cities

Multiple Choice Questions

1. How do transportation systems impact urban development?
 - A. They have no influence on urban development.
 - B. They shape the layout and accessibility of cities.
 - C. They are solely responsible for traffic congestion.
 - D. They only affect public transit options.

2. What is one downside of poor transportation planning?
 - A. Increased air pollution
 - B. Enhanced quality of life
 - C. Economic growth
 - D. Efficient land use

3. How can public transit systems help reduce congestion?
 - A. By encouraging more private vehicle use
 - B. By increasing the number of traffic jams
 - C. By providing an alternative to private vehicles
 - D. By creating more roads

4. What is one benefit of promoting biking and walking in cities?
 - A. Increased congestion
 - B. Improved public health
 - C. More air pollution
 - D. Economic decline

5. How can an efficient transportation system impact a city's economy?
 - A. It has no impact on the economy.
 - B. It attracts businesses and stimulates economic growth.
 - C. It only deters investment.
 - D. It leads to traffic congestion.

