

Name _____

The Unicorn Who Ran for President

In the magical land of Fantasia, where talking animals, fairies, and mythical creatures lived, there was a unicorn named Sparkle who had a unique dream – to become the President of Fantasia. Sparkle was not your average unicorn. She was known for her sparkling rainbow mane and her ability to spread joy wherever she went.

One sunny morning, Sparkle decided it was time to pursue her dream of running for president. She believed that with her positive attitude and colorful personality, she could make Fantasia an even better place for all its inhabitants.

Sparkle began her campaign by hosting a "Rainbow Rally" in the enchanted forest. Creatures of all shapes and sizes gathered to hear her plans for Fantasia. She promised free candy for all, a unicorn in every backyard, and a rainbow in the sky every day. The crowd cheered, and Sparkle's campaign took off like a shooting star.

As the campaign continued, Sparkle faced some tough competition. There was a wise old owl named Oliver who promised to bring wisdom to the land, and a mischievous leprechaun named Lucky who offered pots of gold for every citizen. But Sparkle's charisma and unwavering belief in a brighter future set her apart.

During the Great Debate, Sparkle dazzled the audience with her humor and positivity. She even did a magic trick, turning a pumpkin into a carriage, which left everyone in awe. The citizens of Fantasia were convinced that Sparkle was the right choice.

Election day arrived, and the enchanted creatures cast their votes. It was a close race, but when the results were announced, Sparkle emerged as the winner! She became the first unicorn president of Fantasia.

During her presidency, Sparkle kept her promises. Candy was distributed, rainbows painted the skies, and unicorns frolicked in backyards. Fantasia became a land of joy and laughter.

As Sparkle gazed at the rainbow-filled horizon from her presidential castle, she knew she had made her dream come true. With her colorful spirit and a little bit of magic, she had become the Unicorn President who brought happiness to all of Fantasia.