Open-Ended Response Answer Key

1. Answers will vary, but students should describe a crayon's perspective and suggest a way to be included more.
2. Answers should relate the lesson of appreciating colors to treating people with respect and fairness.
3. Answers should discuss how different roles contribute to teamwork, creativity, and fairness.
4. Answers should explain how colors can show emotions (e.g., blue for sadness, red for excitement) and make stories and pictures more meaningful.
