The Mystery of the Vanishing Homework

Short Answer Key

1. The four friends decided to investigate the mystery by examining the desks of the affected students and setting up a hidden camera to catch the culprit.
2. The hidden camera captured Mr. Jenkins, the school's custodian, sprinkling glitter onto the homework assignments, causing them to disappear in a puff of colorful sparkle.
3. Mr. Jenkins confessed to sprinkling glitter on the homework assignments to play a prank on the students. He carried out the actions because he missed the days of being a student and wanted to inject some humor into the school.
4. The students proposed that Mr. Jenkins become their "homework guardian angel" and come up with creative, non-homework-related pranks to lighten the school atmosphere. Mr. Jenkins agreed to the proposal.
5. The students learned that sometimes, even the most baffling mysteries have a humorous twist, and they discovered the power of forgiveness and compromise in resolving conflicts. They also found a new friend in Mr. Jenkins, who brought laughter and fun to their school days.
