

Name _____

Home, Family, and Military Legacy

Short Answer Key

1. Grandpa Smith was the first member of the Smith family to serve in World War II, and he served in the Navy.
2. John used a VA loan to purchase a house for his growing family, which made homeownership more accessible and affordable, providing a stable and comfortable home.
3. Michael joined the military out of a sense of duty and a desire to carry on the family's legacy of military service. He used a VA loan to purchase a home, making it easier for him to transition to civilian life while providing a stable and secure environment for his family.
4. Ethan marked the fourth generation of the Smith family's military service when he joined the Marines. After his deployments, he used a VA loan to purchase a home, ensuring that his family had a place to call their own.

