

Name _____

Voices for Freedom

Short Answer Key

1. Frederick Douglass wrote books, gave speeches, and met with Lincoln to push for the end of slavery.
2. It was illegal because slave owners feared that educated enslaved people would demand freedom.
3. Abolitionists used newspapers, books, speeches, and protests to spread their message.
4. Lincoln issued the Emancipation Proclamation to weaken the South and take a stand against slavery.
5. The Emancipation Proclamation changed the war's purpose to a fight for freedom, not just unity.

