

Name _____

Zoo-zles and Wacky Animals

Short Answer Key

1. Some of the challenges Bob faced while trying to feed the animals on his first day at the zoo included tossing lettuce into the tree branches for the giraffes, being pelted with peanuts by mischievous monkeys, and having his shoelaces stolen by the penguins.
2. Mr. Whiskers, the tiger, was misbehaving by escaping from his enclosure and causing havoc around the zoo. Bob tried to catch him using giant butterfly nets, oversized mousetraps, and even a custard pie.
3. Some of the talents and quirks exhibited by the animals included meerkats being expert escape artists, zebras painting abstract art, and a sloth racing on a miniature racecar track he had built.
4. Bob raised funds for the zoo by hosting a "Craziest Animal Talent Show." The outcome was a successful event that attracted a large crowd and earned enough money to hire professional zookeepers.
5. Over time, Bob's role in the zoo evolved from a bumbling owner trying to manage the animals to an amused spectator enjoying their antics. He learned to appreciate the animals' quirky personalities and left the day-to-day care to experts.
