Where Does the Walking Leaf Live?

Open-Ended Response Answer Key

1. Tropical forests provide the warm, humid conditions and dense foliage that walking leaves need for food, camouflage, and safety.
2. The walking leaf's camouflage works because it mimics the leaves in its environment. Without a leafy habitat, its disguise wouldn't work.
3. People can protect the walking leaf's habitat by preventing deforestation, planting trees, and supporting conservation efforts.
4. Forests are home to many species, and protecting them ensures that insects, animals, and plants can continue to thrive and maintain a balanced ecosystem.
