

Name _____

How Does a Walking Leaf Reproduce?

Multiple Choice Questions

1. How do male walking leaves find females?
  - A. By looking for bright colors
  - B. By following pheromones
  - C. By making loud sounds
  - D. By chasing them during the day

2. What is parthenogenesis?
  - A. A process where females lay eggs without males
  - B. A type of mating dance
  - C. A way to protect eggs from predators
  - D. A way to camouflage eggs

3. How long does it take for walking leaf eggs to hatch?
  - A. 1 to 2 weeks
  - B. 1 to 2 months
  - C. 3 to 6 months
  - D. 6 to 9 months

4. What do walking leaf eggs often look like?
  - A. Flowers
  - B. Seeds
  - C. Small pebbles
  - D. Raindrops

5. What happens after a female walking leaf lays her eggs?
  - A. She guards them until they hatch.
  - B. She moves them to different locations.
  - C. She eats the eggs for energy.
  - D. She leaves them to survive on their own.

