Where Do Whales Live?

Short Answer Key

1. Whales come to the surface to breathe air through their blowholes.
2. Toothed whales, like sperm whales, primarily eat squid and fish.
3. Humpback whales migrate to colder waters to feed in the summer and warmer areas to breed in the winter.
4. The beluga whale lives in Arctic and sub-Arctic regions.
5. Human activity, such as pollution, shipping traffic, and climate change, threatens whales' habitats.
