Understanding the Why Behind Bullying: What Drives People to Bully Others?

Open-Ended Response Answer Key

1. Answers will vary based on personal experiences and perspectives.
2. Possible responses may include: I would first listen to the student's concerns and provide emotional support. Then, I would involve relevant school staff, such as teachers and the principal, to investigate the issue and implement appropriate consequences for the bully. Additionally, I would offer counseling and support to both the victim and the bully to address underlying issues.
3. Answers will vary based on personal experiences and observations.
4. Possible suggestions may include promoting empathy education, organizing anti-bullying campaigns and workshops, creating a supportive and inclusive school culture, encouraging open communication, and implementing clear consequences for bullying behavior. The effectiveness of these suggestions may vary based on the specific school and community context.
