

Name _____

Where Does a Rabbit Live?

Short Answer Key

1. Grasslands and meadows have plenty of food like grass and flowers, as well as hiding spots to protect rabbits from predators.
2. Rabbits in deserts get most of their water from the plants they eat.
3. Rabbits use bushes, tall grass, tree roots, and logs for hiding in the wild.
4. Burrows keep rabbits safe from predators and provide a cool, comfortable place to rest.
5. Pet rabbits need fresh hay, water, space to hop, and a safe environment to stay happy and healthy.
