

Name _____

Exploring Herbaceous and Woody Plants: What Sets Them Apart?

Multiple Choice Questions

1. What is a defining characteristic of herbaceous plants?
 - A) Persistent woody tissue
 - B) Soft, flexible stems
 - C) Ability to live for many years
 - D) Thickening of stems through secondary growth

2. Which of the following is an example of a perennial herbaceous plant?
 - A) Hosta
 - B) Sunflower
 - C) Oak tree
 - D) Pine tree

3. How long does it typically take for a biennial herbaceous plant to complete its life cycle?
 - A) One year
 - B) Two years
 - C) Three years
 - D) Four years

4. What type of growth do woody plants exhibit?
 - A) Annual growth
 - B) Perennial growth
 - C) Secondary growth
 - D) Tertiary growth

5. During which season do herbaceous plants typically die back to the ground?
 - A) Spring
 - B) Summer
 - C) Fall
 - D) Winter

