

Name _____

The Internet's Joyful Journey: From Humble Beginnings to Worldwide Wonder

Short Answer Key

1. ARPANET was initially created to connect universities and research institutions for data exchange and research collaboration.
2. The TCP/IP protocol in the 1980s allowed different computer networks to communicate with each other, laying the foundation for the modern internet.
3. Tim Berners-Lee introduced the World Wide Web in the 1990s.
4. Answers may vary. Possible answers include: online work, social networking, access to information, entertainment, etc.
5. Smartphones made it possible to access the internet from anywhere at any time, revolutionizing how we stay connected and use online services.

